BANK BARN IS DESTROYED IN $15,000 BLAZE

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a bank barn and a combination tool and wagon shed Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock on the William J. Myers farm, between McSherrystown and Bonneauville. The loss, estimated at $15,000, is partially covered by insurance.

The blaze was the fourth farm fire to have occurred in this area during the past 10 weeks and raised the total damage to approximately $65,000. Dates of the previous fires and the estimated losses are: May 17, Clair Frock farm, $13,000; May 17, former Congressman A. R. Brodbeck farm, $35,000, and June 3, L. A. Worley farm, $3,500. These properties are located in Penn township, York county.

4 Companies Respond
Eight pieces of equipment from four fire companies were summoned to the scene after Myers discovered the blaze. Companies responding were McSherrystown, Centennial, Bonneauville and Littlestown.

Myers stated that he was in the barn about one-half hour earlier and saw nothing unusual in the building. Water to fight the blaze was pumped from a well on the Myers property and two nearby streams.

An exploding gasoline storage tank near the barn forced the owner to give up an attempt to save several pieces of farm machinery, 100 bushels of barley, 200 bushels of corn, eight tons of hay and seven tons of straw.

Nine hogs were led from the burning building by members of McSherrystown fire company and neighbors. The barn was 30 by 60 feet in dimension and the combination tool and wagon shed was 20 by 30 feet.

Eugene Murren, chief of McSherrystown fire company, was in charge of the fire-fighting operations.

State Fire Marshal Jack Arms was called to investigate the first three fires but results of his probe were not revealed.

FARMERS MUST FILE TAX FORM

July is the month for farmers with regular hired help to file social security tax returns with the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the April, May and June quarter. Clarence L. Anstine, manager of the York Social Security Administration office, said today. Regular hired help is defined as a worker on a farm or in a farm household who meets both of the following conditions:

He must have been employed by the farmer continuously for a full calendar quarter. No tax is due for agricultural labor performed in this qualifying quarter.

In the next quarter he is employed by the same farmer in agricultural labor on a full time basis for at least 60 days, and his cash wages for these services are $50 or more.

Farm owners and operators who have regular hired help and have not yet registered for filing the quarterly social security tax returns should do so immediately, said Mr. Anstine, in order that they may get on the mailing list for receiving the tax forms automatically every quarter.

Regular farm hands who have never had social security account numbers or who have lost their social security cards should apply for new ones or duplicates as the case may be, said Mr. Anstine.

A woman who does housework in a farm household is considered the same as a hired hand as far as reporting for social security purposes is concerned. In other words, she must meet the same requirements as a hired man to be considered regularly employed.

For those hired farm workers who meet the requirements of the new law this government insurance provides monthly payments to them and their dependents when the workers retire after reaching age 65 and payments to their families when they die.

NATIONAL HEAD OF MOOSE CITES LODGE'S IDEALS

"If the ideals of brotherhood exemplified by the Moose lodge could be carried out throughout the world there would be no wars," Supreme Moose Governor Oliver S. Twist, Philadelphia, told the members of the local Moose at an initiation Thursday evening at the lodge home on York street.

"If the ideals of friendship, mutual aid, and moderation in all things to which each of the nearly 1,000,000 Moose members are pledged could be carried out by every person in the United States alone, much of the misery and heartaches and problems would disappear."

Governor Twist, a Philadelphia banker who is serving this year as head of the Moose lodge throughout the nation, told the group of 100 candidates who were initiated at the meeting: "In joining the Moose you have made a friend, a friend magnified 1,000,000 times. The old statement is that a friend in need is a friend indeed, and that is what the Moose lodge is. You may make many friends in life, but which of your friends could afford to say to your wife and children, should you die, 'Come to me and I will keep you and train your children until they are ready to live their own lives?' But this friend you have made in joining the Moose can and does say that. Tonight there are more than 800 children of Moose members at Mooseheart, and with those children are their mothers. They live together in a beautiful child village. The children are given a high school education and taught one of 22 trades.

Foster Mothers
"And the mothers, the widows of Moose members who are with the children, are paid for their service of caring for the children there, so that when their children graduate from the Mooseheart at the end of high school the mothers will have a nest-egg to start a home for those young men and women starting out into life."

"The widows not only are there to give their love to their own children, but they become foster mothers for the children of Moose members whose wives have died. All children need a mother's care, and those foster mothers truly become mothers of the motherless children who are at Mooseheart."

"No individual friend could do that for you, care for your children and your widow—but the Moose as 1,000,000 friends can do it."

"And few friends could afford to say to you in your old age—you are tired now, come to my home and (Continued on Page 3)

Police Ready To Discipline Cycle Cowboys

State and borough police were ready today to crack down on the "cowboys on motorcycles" following receipt of a report by the former that some of the motorcyclists were ready "to show this community what it really means to 'cowboy.'"

An article in the "Here and There" column of The Gettysburg Times of Wednesday was reported to have been the immediate cause of the threat, Sgt. Joseph E. Temple, in charge of the Gettysburg substation of the state police, said today.

The report to the state police came from a resident who wished to remain anonymous, Sgt. Temple said.

Overheard Boast
"Someone in Gettysburg said he overheard the 'cowboys' talking Wednesday night in Lincoln Square after they came from viewing the body of 'Buddy' Nutter," Sgt. Temple said. (Arley Ray Nutter, 22, of Gettysburg R. 2, was killed in a motorcycle accident 12 miles west of Gettysburg on the Lincoln highway Monday night.)

Approximately 60 members attended the regular monthly meeting of the Adams County Senior Extension club Thursday evening in the Biglerville school auditorium.

The theme for the meeting was "Better Understanding of International Relationship" with Frank Coffelt and William Spicer in charge. Announcement was made the club will sponsor a square dance set to enter a dance contest at Carlisle, August 17, first prize of which is $100.

Today club members are taking their annual tour and will visit points of interest in Lancaster county, including the New Holland Machine company, Ephrata Cloisters, Green Dragon, a large auction and the Landas Valley museum.

Army Spokesman Says Reds Are Building New Strength At Front

Washington, July 27 (AP) — An army spokesman said today the Communists in Korea have used the time since the original peace proposal June 23 to "build up troop strength and move supplies and weapons toward the battle front."

In an unusual on-the-record statement read to a Pentagon news briefing, the spokesman also said that the United Nations forces had foregone a chance to exploit a great tactical success at the time the Kaesong truce talks started.

This is what the spokesman said: "On May 16 the Chinese Communists launched a major offensive on the east central front and drove the South Korean forces back about 20 miles. The threat to the Tenth corps was contained by the Second division and the Third U.S. moved from reserve,

LEGION, ELKS HELP TO ENROLL BLOOD DONORS

The Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion and the Gettysburg lodge of the Elks have notified the Adams county Red Cross they are "100 per cent back of the blood donor program" being launched here and are sending blood donor registration cards to all their members urging that they enroll as donors.

The completed enrollment cards may be taken or sent to Red Cross chapter headquarters where they will be held until they are consulted for donors' appointment hour preferences when the first contingent of about 140 donors are called for the first Blood Donor Day expected in about a month.

Orville B. Orner, recruitment chairman, said today that Biglerville has called for an additional supply of enrollment cards and that enthusiasm is growing in that community for an Upper Adams Donor Day with a center to be set up in Biglerville.

Mrs. Paul Trostle, McSherrystown, has been named community representative for the recruitment committee in that community. She is contacting organizations in that community and is making enrollment cards available to prospective donors in that community.

A blood donor enrollment blank is printed on page two of The Gettysburg Times today for the convenience of persons who wish to enroll as blood donors. The form should be filled in and mailed to the Adams County Red Cross office on Baltimore street.

So far as the Egyptians are concerned vegetables are as "Old as the Hills."

Asparagus was known to them 40 centuries before our present era. The ancient dwellers of the Nile also grew artichoke, watermelon, cucumber, pumpkin, onions, garlic, lettuce and cabbage.

Radishes were grown and eaten by the modern Egyptians' ancient predecessors as far back as the age of the Pyramids of Giza; while okra (called bambia by the Egyptians) was depicted in one of the tombs of Beni-Hassan more than 4,000 years ago.

Those who want government to manage everything—and are busily using the current crisis to sell that idea to the people— do well to read a Wall Street Journal news item from London which says that Europe will probably have to import coal from America this winter to prevent a threatened shortage.

In Britain's socialized coal mines, output has been running only one per cent above the comparable period of last year, while consumption has increased three per cent. And in both the British and state-controlled German mines the biggest thing that is hampering production is the growing number of workers who are leaving the pits. In other words, under socialization, the workers have become more and more dissatisfied and they are showing it in the most tangible way possible. They're quitting their jobs.

Although most people believe that sauerkraut originated in Germany, records prove that sauerkraut is almost as old as civilization. Workmen building the Great Wall of China, around 200 B. C., received cabbage fermentation.

AIR MEDAL IS GIVEN VETERAN
Frederick A. Weaver, Hanover, son of Mrs. Mary F. Weaver, New Oxford, has received the Air Medal in recognition of meritorious achievement while serving as staff sergeant in the air corps during World War II.

The citation with the belated award says Sgt. Weaver distinguished himself while participating in aerial flights from December 2, 1944, to November 15, 1945.

"As radio operator-mechanic on a C-47 type aircraft," the citation says, "Sgt. The technical skill, courage and devotion to duty displayed by Sgt. Weaver in the execution of a dangerous and difficult task reflect credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

QUALIFIES AS CARRIER PILOT

Naval Aviation Cadet Arthur B. Clapsaddle took off and landed his SNJ "Texan" trainer six successive times recently aboard the USS Monterey, cruising in the Gulf of Mexico, to complete his aircraft carrier qualifications.

RIVER RAFT OF NOVICE SAILORS IS UPSET AGAIN

Moundsville, W. Va., July 27 (AP)—The nautical trip of two unmarried girls and a pair of bachelors—all for the sake of sociology—is coming along swimmingly.

At least that's the way it worked out last night.

Today, they may be under way again.

The four young people, hitching rides down the Ohio river, got dunked last night when their 12 by 20 foot raft turned turtle.

They planned to continue the river jaunt to the Mississippi, then right on down to New Orleans. It's what they call an experiment in sociology to find out how four people adjusted to living in a confined area.

Calls Objections Silly

This experiment caused some eyebrow-hoisting. One of the nautical-minded girls is Mary Ellen Grady, 24-year-old University of Michigan student. She said any objections about four unmarried young people making such a trip were silly.

"Besides," she added, "all of us have other romantic interests."

The other sopping seafarers rescued by nearby river boats were Geraldine Garcia, 23, Boston artist; Milton Borden, 30, of New Bedford, Mass., and Don Brown, 24, a University of Michigan student from New York.

Their cramped raft with an eight-foot-square cabin was being towed by a river boat when it turned over. Miss Grady said the raft was being hauled by the James Zubie, a boat belonging to the Zubic Towing company of Pittsburgh.

Want To Continue

The boat was too fast and the raft flipped. The young mariners forgot sociology and swam for their lives, but lost food and clothing and a mascot dog in the swirling current.

A bit bedraggled and frightened, they went back to sociology again and figured their next move while wringing out clothes in a nearby farmhouse. One thing sure, they said, they're determined to complete the long river run if they can get the raft back in shape.

"Years Ago" Packing Totem Pole Playhouse

Ruth Gordon's "Years Ago," is playing to jam-packed houses this week at the Totem Pole playhouse between Caledonia and Pine Grove. The Karl Genus company, directed for this production by Len Rosenom, leading man in the three previous productions on the circular stage, has added another to its string of hits.

Including such veterans as Al Hinkley, Joan Curtis, Judy Price, Joe Caldwell, Kenneth Dobbs and Estelle Owens, the cast this week has added two newcomers, Anne Antrim of Mechanicsburg, and Anita Rensch of Chambersburg. With all the action taking place in the Jones living room in Wollaston, Mass., years ago, the "lazy Susan" stage does not rotate for the entire performance.

Next week's attraction is a pre-Broadway production of "River Boy."

SENDS $100,000 SOUVENIR RUG FROM KOREA WAR

New York, July 27 (AP)—The New York Times today quoted the Korean consul general here as saying a Pueblo, Colo., sergeant sent home a leopard skin rug from Korea worth about $100,000.

The newspaper quoted the official, David Namkoong, as saying the rug could be valued at that huge sum, "if such a priceless national treasure can have a price tag."

The soldier who sent the souvenir was identified as Sgt. Elverne H. Giltner, a member of an Eighth Army reconnaissance team.

The Times described the rug as measuring 18 feet 11 inches by eight feet and made up of 48 matched leopard skins.

Namkoong told the Times he learned of the rug through a newspaper story about Giltner's gift to his parents. The newspaper was not identified.

Namkoong added that he believes the rug formerly was owned by the late queen Min, who had received many fabulous gifts from foreign potentates. The queen was assassinated by the Japanese shortly before Japan annexed Korea.

"We wouldn't want to cause any one trouble, but that is a very odd souvenir for a soldier to send home. We will make inquiries," Namkoong said.

The Times contacted the sergeant's mother, Mrs. Hugh V. Giltner, by telephone. She said the gift arrived June 18 in an old duffel bag with "53920 in airmail stamps on it."

Mrs. Giltner told the Times her son's letter about the rug said, "The good who sold it to me said it was worth at least $25,000 and it came from the Chang Duk palace in Seoul."

The mother said the rug currently is in storage at a Pueblo fur company, and added:

"It's beautiful, but we don't know what to do with it. It's for sale to the highest bidder."

STUNT RIDER FEARS HIS WIFE

Hackensack, N. J., July 27 (AP)—A motorcycle stunt rider who chauffeurs a lion around an amusement park track at a dizzy speed still can be afraid of his wife.

The statement was made yesterday by Bergen Domestic Relations Court Judge Thomas L. Zimmerman as James McNish, 28, formerly of Edgewater, appeared to answer a charge of contempt for failure to pay $25 a week for support of his wife and two children.

McNish's attorney, I. William Aronson, said his client had moved from his trailer home because his wife nagged him, threatened him with a knife and said she would kill him while asleep.

Zimmerman inquired, "You mean that a fellow who drives a lion around is afraid of a little woman like that?"

Aronson replied, "I don't have to tell your honor that many men are more afraid of their wives than of any lion."

McNish was ordered to keep up the payments. He promised he would.

3 HOME RUNS BY CLYDE VOLLMER BOOST RED SOX

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

With Clyde Vollmer, blazing Boston Red Sox clutch hitter, it seems to be home run or nothing.

Vollmer, a powerful six-footer, hit three homers yesterday against Chicago in a 13-10 win that boosted his club within two percentage points of first place.

Since big Clyde started to find the range about three weeks ago, he has hit 11 home runs in 18 games. Over that same period he has had a total of 22 hits, 80, exactly half of his hits in that period have been over the wall.

Pennant Race Factor

Because Cleveland finally won a game at Yankee Stadium, clipping the league-leading New York Yankees, 9-4, Vollmer's latest outburst was an important factor in the pennant race.

His third of the day came with two on in the sixth and the score tied 10-10. Earlier he hit one with one on in the first and with nobody on in the fifth for a total of six runs batted in. He now has 17 homers for the season—tops for him in the majors.

While the American league tightened, the National opened up even more with Brooklyn moving 9½ games in front of tied second-place New York on a 9-1 win over Chicago.

Phils Win Shutout

The Phillies, making a belated bid to regain their 1950 glory, moved within a half game of the third-place Cardinals by shutting out St. Louis for the second straight night, 7-0. Ken Johnson, an ex-Card, did the job with seven hits.

Bobby Feller became the first major leaguer to win 15 in Cleveland's success at Yankee Stadium but he wasn't around at the finish. Feller gave way for a pinch hitter in the sixth while leading 5-4. Homers by Cliff Mages, Johnny Mize and Yogi Berra chipped away most of his early lead. Lou Brissie held the fort the rest of the way, allowing one hit and no runs in four innings.

14th for Newcombe

George Kell, Dick Krehbiel and Pat Mullin lit into Washington pitchers for three hits each in Detroit's 6-3 win. The Tigers hopped on reliever Mickey Harris for three in the eighth with Connie Berry's two-run double the big blow.

Mat Batt's two-run homer in the fifth helped the St. Louis Browns to a 6-4 edge over the Philadelphia A's in a night game.

Big Don Newcombe won his 14th and ninth in a row over Chicago as the Dodgers bolstered their lead.

New York and Pittsburgh were idle but Boston rapped Cincinnati, 6-2, to take over fifth place.

Bream Favors Sports "Slow Down If It Applies To All"

Gettysburg college will be glad to cooperate with the slow-down in college sports as proposed this week at the annual meeting of the National Association of Collegiate Commissioners in Colorado Springs, Col., according to Henry T. Bream, head football and basketball coach at the local school.

However, the slow-down would have to be applied to all schools, according to the Bulletin mentor.

At the meeting at Colorado Springs of representatives of the 10 major collegiate athletic conferences a three-point curtailment plan was urged. It includes: "1. Definite restrictions upon, or elimination of out-of-season practice in all sports, particularly spring practice in football and basketball; 2. Curtailment of sports schedules to a more limited number of games, and to the avoidance of overlapping of seasons in the various sports; 3. The preservation of institutional control of athletics free from the interference of outside pressures, including those of alumni or other groups."

Aid To Small Colleges

"The curtailment as proposed would be a life-saver for small colleges," said Coach Bream, pointing out the spiraling costs to schools in conducting long out-of-season drills. "If football practice in the spring as well as extra season basketball drills are eliminated by all schools, we would find just as interesting football within a few years as we have at present," in Bream's opinion. "Fans would soon forget the perfectionist play of today when all teams would be playing perhaps a shade below today's standard without detracting from the fans' enjoyment," he said.

"By cutting the practices to adhere more to their respective play-season, athletes would be allowed a freer option of participating in more sports rather than being confined to one or two," Bream added.

The veteran Bulletin coach expressed the opinion that too many football bowl games are being played currently, pointing out that a larger cent loss money on the games. He favors only the long established bowl games.

In commenting on the third point, Bream said the school should set and determine its own athletic policies without any outside interference.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, July 27 (AP)—Anybody know where to find the Steiner cup or the Detroit Free Press cup? They're missing. . . . In connection with the presentation of the Temple cup, first "World Series" trophy, to Baseball's Hall of Fame, Historian Ernie Lanigan dug up some data about old-time trophies.

The Steiner cup was the trophy of the old Eastern league (now the International) and the Free Press cup was played for by teams in the Western league, which became the American. . . . The museum already has the Soby cup, won by Ed Barrow's Paterson club of the Atlantic league and would like the others.

Although there was only one major league during the four years 1894-97—the Temple cup was in competition, there's no doubt about it being a world championship trophy. . . . Ten players who competed for it are in the Hall of Fame.

Ned Hanlon, whose Baltimore Orioles were in every Series, is on the special managers' roll along with John Montgomery Ward and Frank Selee. . . . Another Temple cup player who probably belongs there is Jack Doyle, the veteran Cubs' scout.

A native of Kilgallon, on the Laune river, south of Tralee, County Kerry, Ireland, Jack boasts a "world record" of having been fired by every league in which he umpired.

SHORE LEAVE

After sailor Bob Murphy kayaked Joe Rindone in Boston the other night, a lot of the fans gathered around the ring, not to cheer the winner, but to express disapproval of his hug-and-bite tactics.

Manager Travis Hatfield was starting to cut loose his gloves when Bob saw them coming and whispered: "Get 'em off fast and get those bottles out of the buckets—the real fight is about to start."

CLEANING THE CUFF

Skeeter Newsome was hitting only 273 at Terre Haute when he became a bench manager to make room for the Phillies' $85,000 bonus baby Ted Kazanski. At last report, Ted was hitting under .200. . . . Ten of the 82 Hambletonian eligibles are sons and daughters of Spencer Scott, the 1940 winner. . . . Nothing like keeping the money in the family.

Interstate League
(By The Associated Press)
The Lancaster Red Roses are making a belated move in the Interstate league and the way the Roses exploded last night, the top clubs had better look to their laurels.

The Red Roses shelled three Wilmington pitchers for 17 hits in romping to a 14 to 1 victory that narrowed the Blue Rocks' third place margin over Lancaster to one game.

Meanwhile, the circuit's one and two clubs continued to roll along. Hagerstown's Braves outslugged Sunbury, 10-8 and Allentown's Cardinals edged cellar dwelling Salisbury, 4-3. In the only other game, York trounced Harrisburg, 7 to 2.

The Red Roses rolled up eight runs in a big fourth inning, driving two Wilmington pitchers from the hill, to win going away. Keith Kelley limited the Rocks to eight hits to record his 11th victory of the year.

The first place Braves rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to overcome a Sunbury lead, which Moose vs. Texas Lunch, 7:30.

Stanton Legion vs. Elks.

A series of playoffs for positions in the playoffs was created in the Softball league Thursday evening when the Stanton Legion and Moose scored victories in the final regular season games.

The Stanton Legion whipped the Elks 7-1 in the opener through the three-hit pitching of Clarence Dorn. As a result of the victory the legion, Elks and VFW are in a deadlock for fourth place. Tonight the Stanton Legion and Elks will play again in the night game, the winner to meet the VFW Monday evening in a battle to determine the fourth place team as well as the fourth principal in the loop playoffs. The Vets drew a bye for tonight's schedule.

The Moose romped to an 8-5 win over the Texas Lunch in the opening game Thursday, the game being started at the middle of the second inning with the score deadlocked at 2-2 as the result of a league ruling concerning a protest of the game which had opened the season. Loose fielding on the part of the lunchmen was costly. Tonight at 7:30 the Moose and lunchmen will tangle to break their present tie for second place.

Championship league playoffs will open next Wednesday unless rain interrupts the position playoffs.

COLLEGE SENIOR PLAYS SUB-PAR

Hershey, Pa., July 27 (AP)—A college senior, who has never won even a district tournament, today held a slim lead going into the second round of the 72-hole Pennsylvania Public Links championship.

Ted Robertson, 21-year-old number one man on the Penn State golf team, turned in the only sub-par round of the 18 holes yesterday on his hometown Hershey Park course. His card of 37-33-70 was one under par for the tricky course.

The field of 112 spare-time golfers will be cut to 30 for tomorrow's 36-hole finals.

Robertson entered today's round with only a one-stroke lead over two Hershey brothers and a Bethlehem salesman, Art and Paul Garrison and Harry Romig, of the Green Pond course near Bethlehem. Each turned in a first day's card of 36-35 for a par 71.

Right behind the trio—and the only other serious contender at this stage—was Sam Musico of South Park course, Pittsburgh, with a 72. Musico won the title in 1940 and was runner-up three years ago—his last Public Links tournament. None of the four leaders has ever won the title.

Six strokes off the lead — due mainly to a four-over par seven on the first hole—was defending champion Walter (Skippy) Kilrea, Jr., 18-year old sharpshooter from the host club.

Philadelphia, July 27 (AP)—A former North Carolina tennis ace and the top seeded played from Philadelphia reached the semi-finals today in eastern states clay court championships.

Ray Morris of North Carolina won a difficult 3-6, 6-3, 6-0 victory over Howard Frankel, while Harry Hoffman scored 6-2, 6-2 over Glenn Miller, formerly of Swarthmore college. Jack Bowles off Philadelphia meets Dick Sorlien, Merion, and Phil DeHuff, former Lehigh captain, will play ex-champion Dave Perchonek in quarter-final matches today.

LOCAL 9 MUST WIN SUNDAY TO GAIN PLAYOFFS

Added importance for all games in local baseball leagues grows as the circuits near the completion of their campaigns.

Final regular season games will be played by the South Penn league on Sunday, with one of the most important being scheduled here. Coach Rogers Herr's team, fighting for fourth place and a playoff spot, will be host to Bonneville.

Huntertown, half a game back of the leaders, plays at Green Springs and in order for Gettysburg to gain a spot Hunterstown must win. Hunterstown and Green Springs still have a postponed game to play.

In other games Brunstown will be at Granite and Barlow at Greenmount.

Declares Forfeit

The Penn-Adams loop became tighter today with the announcement by President Maynard Stuckey that he has forfeited a game to Wenksville. The forfeit involved playing of a postponement by Wenksville and Heidersburg. As a result Wenksville is now but one game back of the league-leading Bendersville team who will be met at Wenksville on Sunday.

Heidersburg is scheduled to play at Mummaburg in the other league game.

Fairfield, with its lead in the Penn-Mar circuit, shaved to one game, will be host to third-place Littlestown on Sunday. Second-place Taneytown will be host to Thurmont.

Junior Loop Games

Cashtown's improving team will entertain McSherrytown while Emmitsburg plays at Westminster.

"Muff" Oyler's Gettysburg Eagles take on the league-leading Hanover Kiwanis on the latter's field in a Mason-Dixon Junior Baseball league game Saturday afternoon. Littlestown plays at the Hanover Kiwanis tonight at 6:15.

Saw Jap Officers In Commie Army

Tokyo, July 27 (AP)—Koyodo said today a Japanese woman repatriated from South Korea reported she saw four Japanese officers in the Communist army that occupied Seoul last July.

The Japanese news agency said the woman, Naoko Tomahiro, 39, talked with the four who identified themselves as soldiers of the former Japanese Kwantung army in Manchuria. She said they told her there were "scores of thousands of Japanese war prisoners" in Siberia.

The four officers, she said had been detained in Siberia but were sent to Manchuria at the outbreak of the Korean war.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
MANY OBJECTIVES

It would be well for all of us, early in life, to set our minds upon as many objectives as possible, so that we might broaden our minds and not be too disappointed at not reaching one or more of those objectives that all of us have in mind at the outset of life.

The interesting people are those who have gone far in search for many things. None of us expects to reach all of these objectives, but we do expect to reach a number and to make them serve us to their uttermost. Many a professional man has interests, hobbies, or recreations separate from his regular work, to keep him interested in life, and to make him that much better as friend, associate and companion.

People go on their vacations with many objectives in their minds, things to see, people to meet, and certain things that they hope to accomplish during their brief time away from home. It is important to have a well organized mind so that it can be called in for consultation upon every unusual occasion.

Stimulating writers like Samuel Butler, Norman Douglas, Carlyle, Montaigne, R. B. Cunningham Graham, and others, instill a desire in us to extend our knowledge and to seek more objectives. You don't have to agree with people's opinions, but you can listen to their arguments, or beliefs and perhaps be guided into many a new world of speculative thought.

There are certain books I early learned about that I made up my mind to read later in life. Many of these I have read and been enriched by them. Many are yet to be read—in fact, more than I shall ever have time to read, but there they sit upon my library shelves, proud and awaiting! It's as though friends had come in to call while you were out of the city, but who decided to wait for you anyway. Books have nothing to do but to wait!

In the town where I have made my home for thirty years there are things I expect to see sometime, but I like the thrill of expectation—perhaps to see some of these things for the first time with a friend. I like many objectives. They give me incentive, and I believe they will to you.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Enjoying God."

SAFETY KNOWLEDGE
If old enough to drive a car,
A license proving that you are,
Then you are old enough to know
The step of crimples must be slow;
The deaf can't hear; the blind can't see;

'Tis you, not they, must careful be.
The state believes that you have learned
With safety children aren't concerned;

That youngsters off on flying feet
Will chase a ball into the street,
And knowing that, where children are

With greater care you'll drive your car.
With recklessness they race about,
So you must be watching out.
If old enough to drive, also
You're old enough all this to know.

LIVE "CORPSE" STIRS PROBE OF 1949 SLAYING

New Orleans, July 27 (AP)—Legally dead and "buried" for two years, Sam Jones set off a weird Louisiana swampland murder mystery when found alive in a barber's chair.

Authorities were baffled today by the finding of the 43-year-old Jones in Denver, Colo. As far as Louisiana officers were concerned Jones had been in his grave since a knife-slaying two years ago.

They were equally puzzled as to the identity of the body resting in Sam Jones' grave.

To Question Three

These are the persons whose police plan to question:

1. Jones, known also as John C. Harper in Denver where he has spent most of his time since he was "murdered." He has been arrested for investigation of murder and will be questioned on his arrival today from Denver. He was found in Denver Wednesday night.

2. Donald Easterwood, a 26-year-old GI student welder and father of four children, who was tried and acquitted on charges of murdering Jones. Easterwood was arrested last night for investigation of murder.

3. Jones' common-law wife, Patricia Land, who identified the decomposed body found in nearby Jefferson Parish (county) swamps as that of Jones. She admitted the slaying, repudiated her statement and then accused Easterwood and testified in court she saw him kill Jones.

Easterwood worked at a New Orleans filling station with Jones and came under suspicion after Jones disappeared and $96 was reported missing from a cash drawer. Easterwood was indicted on the murder charge largely on the Land woman's testimony. A jury freed him, however, and in doing so gave him a $100 gift to start over again.

Chief Deputy Sheriff John Faulkner of Jefferson Parish and another deputy went to Denver earlier this week to look for Jones. He was accompanied by a former friend of Jones, John C. Painter.

Painter had a chance meeting with Jones several months ago in Denver. When Painter returned to New Orleans he told his story to the New Orleans States. The newspaper notified the sheriff's office. Jones admitted taking the money from the gas station, but denied that he knew anything about a slaying.

Mail Clerk Placed On 5-Year Probation

Federal Judge William Alvah Steward suspended a three-year penitentiary term yesterday but ordered Gruel to make restitution and pay court costs.

Says Loyalty Oath "Must" Legislation

Harrisburg, July 27 (AP)—James J. Davis, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, told 450 delegates to the Pennsylvania Amvets convention today that a loyalty oath is "must" legislation in this state.

Davis said "we are tired of hearing" that pending legislation requiring an oath of allegiance by state officials "is unnecessary."

"We are equally tired of hearing the constant quibbling about the oath," he continued.

"The clear issue is protection of country. It is time we took measures to supplant faithfulness with fidelity; traitorousness with allegiance; treacherousness with devotion and disloyalty with loyalty."

Mrs. Mary E. Rupp, of Harrisburg, auxiliary president of the Amvets, welcomed 200 women delegates, alternates and guests to the sixth annual gathering of their group.

GOP DRIVE TO "GET ACHESON" IS DEFEATED

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Another Republican-powered "get-Acheson" drive has failed.

The end came yesterday when the House passed and sent to the Senate a $1,045,940,115 appropriation bill financing the State, Justice and Commerce departments and the Federal courts for the fiscal year which began July 1.

House foes of Secretary of State Acheson had tried—unsuccessfully—to saddle the bill with a rider which would have cut off his pay.

Also defeated was a Republican-sponsored move to slash the budget of the "Voice of America." This is the State Department's overseas information program designed to sell the American way of life to foreigners, especially those behind the iron curtain.

GOP Ranks Split
Republican ranks split in both drives, while Democratic lines held firmer than usual.

Acheson's salary was saved by a standing vote of 171 to 81, the voters not being recorded by name. There was no organized attempt to force a recorded roll-call vote.

A top-heavy rollcall of 245 to 141 beat back the attempt to cut the "Voice" budget from the $115,000,000 requested by President Truman to $70,000,000. The House voted the $85,000,000 recommended by its appropriations committee.

The drive to force Acheson off the payroll was spear-headed by an amendment offered by Rep. Phillips (R-Calif.). It would have denied pay to any policy-making department head who, within five years prior to his appointment, was connected with a professional firm that represented a foreign government. This would have applied to Acheson.

Upwards of a score of Republicans voted with the Democrats, some of them explaining that although they have no love for Acheson, they disagreed with the GOP approach to the job of getting rid of him. House defeat of the newest move against Acheson was expected to stick, since there has been no comparable drive in the Senate.

As of the middle of the year, 1951, the number of persons employed on U.S. farms was slightly more than 11,000,000.

3,000 Pa. Drivers Lose Their Licenses

Harrisburg, July 27 (AP)—Nearly 3,000 Pennsylvania motorists have been stripped of driving privileges so far this year for violating the state's new financial responsibility law.

Another 759 cited drivers have escaped suspension by posting security totaling $209,851 to satisfy judgments arising out of accidents.

These figures were produced today by the state Bureau of Highway Safety to show that it is cracking down hard on persons failing to comply with the new law.

The 1949 statute provides for license suspensions for motorists who

SMALL CHANGE SPENT FASTER THAN IT'S MADE

By BILLYE WHEELOCK
Philadelphia, July 27 (AP)—So you think you've got money worries?

Well, when the going gets rough, remember the man in the mint. He has his troubles, too.

Right now, people are using up money so fast he can't make enough to go around.

Pennies are the biggest problem. So, maybe you ought to be careful about how many you put in your piggy bank.

The strain on the mint is terrific. But it's not only piggy banks, Superintendent Edwin R. Dressel of the Philadelphia mint, said today.

Other greedy users of pennies are parking meters, vending machines and sales and excise taxes.

Out Of Pennies

The most recently reported shortage of pennies is in Charlotte, N. C., where the Federal Reserve Bank had to appeal to the treasurer of the United States for more coins.

A sales tax which went into effect in South Carolina July was part of the reason.

But Dressel said the summer season always brings greater demands for all types of coins.

"The cotton crop in the south, the tomato harvest in New Jersey, the wheat harvest in the west—all these increase the need for coins," he explained.

In broad, general terms, the Philadelphia mint supplies coins to the east and south, Denver produces for the middle west and San Francisco coins for the west coast, he said.

No Nickels Made

The daily production at the Philadelphia mint, now operating on a 60-hour week, is: $60,000 in half dollars; $50,000 in quarters; $72,000 in dimes and $80,000 worth of pennies.

They're not making even a nickel's worth of nickels. "We don't have the money," Dressel explained.

He went on to say that to turn out the daily quota of the other coins the mint is currently working on "borrowed funds"—since the fiscal appropriation has not yet been approved by Congress.

Production quotas are pretty much guess work, Dressel explained. "We try to anticipate demand but it's mostly pulling a figure out of the sky," he said.

Asked about the life expectancy of a penny, Dressel sighed: "Only a man who isn't afraid of the end of a limb would be willing to answer that."

TOO HOT FOR THERMOMETER

Big Turtle With Red Ribbon Missing

Chicago, July 27 (AP)—If you should see Henrietta, send her back to suburban Lincolnwood and Leo Slutskin will reward you with $275.

Slutskin said yesterday that he'll pay $1 a pound for the 275-pound Henrietta's safe return. She slipped out of his sea food shop the other day and he'd like to see her back because his boy, Barry, 6, is so fond of her.

Henrietta looks like most any green sea turtle except that she has a red ribbon around her neck.

CONFEREES FIX ROLLBACKS ON CERTAIN ITEMS

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Senate House conferees voted tentatively early today to permit price rollbacks on non-farm commodities to levels which prevailed just before the Korean war—provided certain cost increases are taken into account.

The tentative decision came near the end of an all-night session of the conferees committee, which agreed to extend economic controls legislation through next June.

The extension measure cover wage, price, rent and other emergency curbs.

Senator Maybank, (D-S.C.) the joint committee chairman, told reporters the group will meet again later in the day to make a final decision regarding the non-farm rollback provision. He said a few other provisions also will come up for a final vote at that time.

Those matters include what to do about a proposal to scrap the ban voted on livestock slaughter quotas by both the Senate and the House.

Keep Beef Rollback

The legislation would keep intact the ten per cent beef price rollback already in effect, but would bar additional price cutbacks for that commodity. The price administration planned two more reductions, each 4 1/2 per cent.

The conferees agreed that prices for other farm commodities could be rolled back to 90 per cent of the level of last May 19 or to the parity level, whichever was higher. Committee officials said, however, that in practice the farm rollback section could affect only a few commodities, such as cotton, wool, veal and lambs.

In its tentative form, the compromise extension bill fell far short of the kind of controls legislation President Truman has requested. The separate bills passed earlier by the Senate and House were minus most of the additional controls authority which the President sought.

The conferees also approved more liberal consumer credit controls than the Federal Reserve Board now has in effect, covering the installment purchase of new and used automobiles and such household items as radios and television sets.

TAFT DISPUTES TRUMAN CLAIM ON "DISCIPLINE"

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) disputed today President Truman's contention that no military man had been disciplined for testifying before congressional committees.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday that if he had intended disciplining military officials he wouldn't have let them testify in the first place.

He made these remarks in connection with a denial that any more reprisals had been considered against Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who remains a five-star general technically on active duty despite his removal as Pacific commander.

Noting that Adm. Louis E. Denfeld had been fired as chief of naval operations after testimony in the navy-air force feud, Taft told a reporter: "The President's attitude indicates the need for Congress having the right to obtain frank opinions from military officers. Today the vast military program threatens the solvency of the country. Congress must have the facts to determine whether all of it is necessary. Our foreign and military policies have been determined too long in secret."

Senate Takes Step

During a House inquiry into inter-service rivalry in late 1949, Denfeld had testified that the army and air force were whittling away at the navy's striking power.

Retiring Secretary of the Navy Matthews said Denfeld was not fired because of this testimony, but rather on grounds he did not have "respect for authority" which should exist between "various official ranks."

Taft was one of the authors of a bill passed by the Senate this week to bar reprisals against military officials and government employees whose testimony the judiciary committee said "may offend someone higher than himself in the government hierarchy." The House has not acted on the measure.

The Ohio senator said, however, that even if the bill becomes law it would not reach a situation in which the President might bar some official from testifying at all.

Woman Leaves Baby In Corridor Coach

Philadelphia, July 27 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Di Bona, 22, dashed from a courtroom. "My baby," she screamed. "She's been kidnapped."

Policemen on duty at city hall calmed her down a bit and listened to her tearful account of testifying at a trial and leaving her eight-month-old daughter, Donna, asleep in a coach in the hall.

"Oh," said one of the policemen, "that baby!"

He escorted her to the Missing Persons bureau where they found Donna exchanging baby talk with a group of burly policemen.

And that is how police solved yesterday the mystery of the baby in the city hall corridor.

Duff Hopeful Ike Will Be Candidate

Denver, July 27 (AP)—U.S. Senator James H. Duff (R-Pa.) wouldn't make a flat prediction today but he said it is more probable that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower will be a candidate for president next year than that he will not.

Duff said in an interview yesterday that he considers Eisenhower a Republican. The junior Pennsylvania senator again disavowed any personal presidential ambitions, saying: "When the time comes I'm going to be for somebody else—I'm not saying who."

BURIAL ADMIRAL THIS AFTERNOON

Washington, July 27 (AP)—There was a grave today in Arlington National cemetery for Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, on a knoll where oak trees stand tall and straight like the masts of a ship.

They chose that burial place for the 54-year old member of the joint chiefs of staff and chief of naval operations who died in Italy last Sunday while on a military-diplomatic mission to help strengthen the defenses of the Western nations.

In tribute to that great man, as President Truman characterized him yesterday, there gathered for funeral service this afternoon in the Arlington amphitheater a company of the nation's highest governmental and military leaders.

Because he was of the combined high command, contingents of soldiers and sailors and airmen of all the services came to march in the cortege across the Potomac and up the curving avenues of Arlington to the amphitheater—more than 500 in the whites, khaki and blue.

Because he was an aviator, the navy directed that if weather permitted a formation of 133 naval fighters and attack planes pay a last aerial salute.

To the services were invited men whose names were well-known, like Sherman's, in the greatest sea war the navy ever fought.

A contract was signed between four AFL unions and the associated Pennsylvania contractors establishing a wage schedule for union work in 29 eastern and central Pennsylvania counties.

A. E. O'Brien, of the contractors' group, disclosed that union contractors in the area agreed to pay hourly rates ranging from $2 to $2.15 for carpenters, $1.25 to $1.40 for truck drivers and $1.12 to $1.22 for laborers.

Travancore is a popular vacation area in India.

State Trooper James Harker said the young woman admitted shooting her husband through the stomach with a rifle when he threatened her. The shooting climaxed, Harker said, an argument over the bride withdrawing money from her bank account to make a trip. Condition of the husband, in the Navy hospital at Philadelphia, was described as "poor."

FIND MAN'S BODY NEAR MONT ALTO

A Baltimore man was found dead in his car Thursday afternoon on a mountain road near Mont Alto with a bullet wound in his right temple and a 38-caliber revolver in his right hand.

He was identified as Alden O. Davis, 33, according to State Trooper John Burrie. In the closed car with the body was a frightened fox terrier, presumably a family pet, and a note addressed to the dead man's wife, indicating that he was despondent over personal debts.

The car was spotted by Harold C. High, a forest ranger, about 2 p.m. while he was mowing grass along the road to Camp Penn. He investigated and called state police. He said the car was not there when he passed the spot at 11:30 a.m. Identification cards found on the meeting of the Women's Missionary society with Mrs. W. H. Newman and Mrs. Lee McGlaughlin as leaders at 8 p.m.

Emmitsburg "HOMECOMING" CELEBRATION PLANS ADVANCE

The weekly meeting of the Emmitsburg Community Old Home Week celebration committees was held Wednesday night in the meeting room at the Fire hall with every committee well represented with an attendance of 50 men and women. General Chairman B. H. Boyle presided and received reports and conducted discussions on the work of each of the 15 committees. Encouraging reports were given by each committee.

The parade committee report was given by Chairman Harold Hoke who reported on the plan for the prizes and the entries for the parade.

The carnival committee report was made by the chairman, Dr. J. Dillon, who said some difficulty was being experienced by the committee in determining what games would be legally permitted due to the new law enforcement campaign in Frederick against games of chance. Chairman Dillon reported that bingo will be played and that a commercial amusement company would be engaged for the carnival but no arrangements for that part of the entertainment are complete.

Suppers were discussed and the following supper committee was appointed: Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. Guy Baker, Mrs. Marie Rosensteel and Mrs. Lawrence Orndorff. Samuel Hays reported for the entertainment, program and invitation committee. Mrs. Robert Daugherty made the report for the advertising committee and said posters will be out this week and will give a 25-mile coverage around the town.

Ask Community Help

The secretary reported on letters being sent out to all the organizations of the community asking each organization to underwrite the celebration to the extent of $50. A finance committee consisting of Lewis Stoner and Thornton W. Rodgers, co-treasurers, was appointed and they were authorized to open the Old Home Week Celebration account, and organizations are requested to make financial contributions payable to this account and send them to the treasurers.

Col. Thomas J. Frailey reported he had received a letter from Robert Lansing, leader of the Baltimore Municipal band, stating that the band could not be brought to Emmitsburg for less than $400. It was decided to consider another band.

A report from the historical display committee was made for the chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Orndorff, in which it was announced that the plan is to have business places of the town use their windows for historical displays. Guy Baker reported for the Boy Scouts on the first aid and safety committee that first aid stations would be set up and that there would be attendants on duty at all times. Morris Zent reported for the grounds committee and said he was investigating the possibility of securing second-hand materials which are being used for similar affairs at nearby towns. The meeting adjourned at 9:30 o'clock to meet again next Wednesday night.

Plan Religious Services

Rev. Philip Bower and Samuel Hays made reports for the religious services, announcing the Homecoming services are expected to be held by every church in Emmitsburg and community, including Tom's Creek, St. Anthony's Shrine and Rocky Ridge on Sunday, September 2, and that there will be a community song service Sunday evening, September 2, at 7:30 with William Simpson directing the music and an invitation is being sent Gov. Theodore McKeldin to deliver an address at that time. Mr. Simpson asks for a community chorus of over 100 and has called for rehearsal at the Emmitsburg public school building next Monday at 8:15 p.m. All choir members and others are invited to come and help with this part of the Old Home Week celebration.

Howard Kemp of Frederick and Florida is spending some time in Emmitsburg. He is staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Zacharias while here.

The Whetstone Bible class of the Whetstone Lutheran church has accepted the invitation of the Men's class of the Emmitsburg Lutheran Sunday school to be their guests for the Sunday school service on Sunday, August 12, at 9:30 a.m. The Whetstone Bible class has a membership of approximately 150 men and a large percentage is expected to be present. There will be a lunch in the Parish hall following the service.

Elias Evangelical Lutheran church will hold a "Home Coming Service" on Sunday, September 2, at 10:30 a.m. in cooperation with the Emmitsburg Community "Old Home Week" celebration. The pastor, Rev. Philip Bower, announced this service last Sunday and at the same time announced the following committee to promote the occasion: Mrs. Robert Gillelan, Miss Grace Rowe, Mrs. George Eyster, Miss Ruth Shuff, Mrs. Charles Sharrer, Mrs. Allen Bollinger, Mrs. Roy Bollinger, Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Mrs. R. M. Zacharias, Mrs. James Saylor and Mrs. Charles Harner.

COSTELLO IS FREED ON BAIL

New York, July 27 (AP)—Frank Costello, reputed king of the underworld, was free on $5,000 bail today after pleading innocent to charges of contempt of the United States Senate.

Imprisoned gamblers Joe Adonis and Frank Erickson, also indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury for allegedly defying Senate crime probes, will be arraigned today or tomorrow.

After the jury handed up the indictments, Costello hopped a subway to the federal courthouse to give himself up before Federal Judge John F. X. McGohey.

Fingerprinted in the U. S. marshal's office, Costello, who admitted he served several months in prison in 1917 for illegally carrying a gun, asked, "What have they got against me now?"

The indictments against the trio of underworld characters resulted from their refusal to answer questions put to them by the Senate crime committee during its televised hearings here last March.

Costello was named in a nine-count indictment, Adonis in 16 and Erickson in 74. The top penalty on each count is one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Many Give Help To Cure Polio Victim

Camden, N. J., July 27 (AP)—A good many developments of modern science are being coordinated today in an effort to speed the recovery of Frank Ruskak, a 24-year-old polio victim who has been confined to an iron lung for nine months.

Doctors, nurses and technicians at Camden Municipal hospital, together with local chapters of the national foundation for infantile paralysis, have arranged for Ruskak to be flown to the Mary MacArthur Memorial hospital at Wellesley, Mass., where it is hoped facilities will help him recover.

But Ruskak can live only for a few minutes outside his artificial respirator, and it will take elaborate arrangements to make sure that the portable iron lung used on the plane does not fail during the flight.

Ruskak, a veteran of the Pacific war, had a close brush with death last week, when lightning knocked out the power supply at the hospital. For seven hours, he was kept alive in battery and gasoline-powered respirators.

Utility Plans Big Expansion Program

Baltimore, July 27 (AP)—Two resolutions amending the charter of the Pennsylvania Water & Power company to facilitate financing have been approved by holders of preferred and common stock.

The company plans financing to obtain funds to carry out a $25,000,000 expansion program.

One of the resolutions approved yesterday permits greater flexibility in issuance of 78,000 shares of authorized but unused preferred stock, the dividend rate and redemption price of which is to be set by directors.

The other provides that the common stock, like the present $5 cumulative preferred, will have no preemptive rights with respect to preferred stock issued in the future. Holders of the common will, however, still retain their prior rights to subscribe to any future issues of common.

CLAIMS DOUG PLANS SERIES OF SPEECHES

New York, July 27 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur is planning a series of major speeches on foreign and domestic issues, an authoritative source said today.

MacArthur returned last night from a railroad tour of southern and western New England.

He addressed a joint session of the Massachusetts House and Senate in Boston on Wednesday night.

The informant, who declined use of his name, said MacArthur has a tentative schedule of six speeches, to be delivered in widely separated points in the United States.

His next appearance, the source said, probably will be in Ohio and in Miami Beach. All six will be delivered before the end of 1951, he said.

More Speeches Planned

MacArthur's official spokesman, retired Major General Courtney Whitney, confirmed the fact that more speeches and observation-platform tours have been planned by the former Far Eastern commander.

Whitney said, however, that the MacArthur schedule is not yet definitely lined up. He added:

"He has received invitations to speak before practically every state legislature in the country, as well as a great many civic and private organizations. He is going to accept some of them."

MacArthur himself indicated, in his Boston speech, that he had such intentions. He said at one point, "I shall raise my voice as loud and often as I believe it to be in the interest of the American people."

Whitney said MacArthur was "highly pleased" with the reaction to his speech. The general received hundreds of telegrams and telephone calls immediately after he finished speaking, Whitney said, and others reached him during his tour yesterday.

Says Soldiers Need More Entertainment

Tokyo, July 27 (AP)—"You have to see this war to realize how badly the guys need entertainment," comedian Jack Benny said today after a three-week tour of Korea.

"The soldiers in Korea were the most appreciative audience I ever had," Benny said. "They should have more show people entertaining them over there."

Benny and his troupe—Marjorie Reynolds, Benny Venuta, Frankie Remley, Harry Kahne, Dolores Gay and June Bruner—plan to fly home next week, stopping in Okinawa for performance. They have entertained 200,000 servicemen, several times within earshot of the front.

Coudersport, Pa., July 27 (AP)—Twenty-one beauty contestants paraded in a fashion show for farm housewives today prior to the selection of one as "Miss Potato Blossom of 1951."

The beauty contest was a highlight of the two-day meeting of the Pennsylvania Potato Growers Cooperative association. About 1,000 persons gathered for the event in this rich Potter county potato growing region.

Haas Won't Confirm Report He'll Quit

Harrisburg, July 27 (AP)—Dr. Francis B. Haas declined Thursday to confirm or deny Capitol Hill reports that he may step aside as superintendent of public instruction when his term expires August 23.

"I have nothing to say about that right now," the 67-year-old educator told a newsmen. "You might say it's too soon."

Erie county Republicans were reportedly booming Dr. C. Herman Grose for the post should Haas retire. Grose came here as deputy secretary of public instruction two years ago after serving as superintendent of Erie schools.

Also mentioned for the post is Robert M. Steele, president of California State Teachers' college in Washington county.

Dr. Haas was first named to the $12,000 post in 1925. He served two years and then became president of Bloomsburg State Teachers' college in Columbia county. His successor would receive $15,000 a year under new salary scales.

Civil Defense To Train Over 80,000

Harrisburg, July 27 (AP)—The state Council of Civil Defense has completed plans for local training of more than 20,000 auxiliary police-men for Pennsylvania.

Dr. Richard Grestell, civil defense director, announced that first copies of a basic training manual for auxiliary police are off the press and ready for distribution.

"The manual will not supersede any training plans already underway locally," Grestell said. "Some cities have fine programs. Our plan is to enlarge the system."

The manual covers 36 hours of instruction dealing with traffic control, observation and patrol, identification of crime, evidence, testimony and arrest procedure. Capt. Emmett J. Donovan, of the state police, supervised preparation of the manual. Donovan is serving as coordinator of law enforcement services for the Civil Defense Council.

Woman She Helped In Rain Takes $700

Philadelphia, July 27 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine Wolfe's answer will be "no" the next time someone asks to duck under her umbrella.

The 65-year-old widow felt kindly towards a strange woman during a sudden downpour the other day and gave the woman shelter.

"The act cost Mrs. Wolf $700. The stranger told of a real estate man who could "double your money in not time." Mrs. Wolf was persuaded. But after she handed over her money the real estate man and strange woman disappeared.

WOODEN NICKELS AGAIN
Donora, Pa., July 27 (AP)—Merchants in this mill town near Pittsburgh are taking wooden nickels in trade—and they're good. For each wooden nickel a merchant takes in, he can get five cents in regular currency at one of the town's banks.

The cash to make the wooden nickels good has been put up by the Donora Golden Jubilee sponsors.

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL LIFE
Romans 12:1-2; I Corinthians 8:1 John 2:15-17.

Memory Selection: Do you not know that you are God's temple and that God's Spirit dwells in you? I Corinthians 3:16.

We are well aware that man is a social being. He likes the companionship of others. By this faculty we are bound together in numerous ways, and depend upon one another in more respects than we may be conscious of. Our living-together is not merely for enjoyment, but for effective, worthwhile living. Since a group of people is no higher in character and achievement than that of its individuals, the responsibility of each is clearly recognized.

In his closely reasoned letter to the Romans Paul leads up to the personal question of relationship to God. There can be no mistaking what he meant when he made his appeal. "To present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God." The whole of man is required—body, mind and spirit. All of him is to be dedicated in "spiritual service." All natural gifts, all acquired or developed skills, all abilities of whatever kind, belong to God in attitude and service, because all that we are or have comes originally from Him. To accomplish this requires a "renewal of the mind," or regeneration, until one understands and consciously accepts

God's will above his own. Then, and then only, is the individual able to make a real contribution to our common life which we call society. Let reformers and all who would serve efficiently remember that reformation must begin in their personal lives.

About Food
No, it is not the high cost of food, which concerns us these days, that interested Paul in writing to his people at Corinth; rather it is the proper use of food. This was a burning question with many Christian converts. It was the practice among the pagan portion of society of that day to use the meat of beasts in worship rites. Some of the meat was later used by the priests while some was sold to merchants. The question then arose whether it was right to eat of this meat which had been offered to idols. This did not perplex those who knew about idols, that they had "no real existence"; that "there is no God but one." A Christian therefore could eat meat although previously offered to idols. But those who still believed in idols, and were conscientious about it, were troubled.

Paul here makes an appeal to his people; they are warned not to allow their superior knowledge and understanding to puff them up; to make them offensive because of their

The years have brought poverty and privation to this aged gentlewoman, but they have not destroyed her spirit nor dimmed her faith in God.

She earns a scanty subsistence for herself and her dependent grandchild with her own hands, but she holds no bitterness in her heart and is as grateful to God for her frugal loaf as if it were a feast of the finest foods.

It takes faith and strong character to weather the storms of adversity without damage to the soul.

There are people who enjoy abundance without the remotest thought of God's providence. When misfortune comes and their house of sand crashes, they go down with it. They lack the sustaining power of an humble heart and active faith.

Religion teaches men to enjoy prosperity with humility, and to rise above misfortune through honest effort and faith in God.

This fine old mother, who thanks God for her loaf and pitcher, has not lived and wrought and trusted in vain. Her life and her faith are the glory of humanity and the hope of the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MUSMANNO NOT ADMITTED TO INNER CIRCLE

Harrisburg, July 27 (AP)—The inner policy circle of the Democratic state organization remained closed today to Judge Michael A. Musmanno despite his surprising victory for the party's supreme court nomination.

An official of the Democratic state committee, who declined quotation by name, said the Pittsburgh judge would not enter Democratic plans for the November 6 general election campaign.

"We have no plans for Judge Musmanno," said the spokesman when asked if top Democrats would seek his support for various local candidacies next November.

Musmanno defeated incumbent Justice Grover C. Ladner, Philadelphia, for the Democratic nomination to the high bench. Latest totals for Tuesday's voting were 331,436 for Musmanno and 255,487 for Ladner, with 8,319 precincts out of 8,412 reporting.

Ladner, named by former Gov. James H. Duff to a vacancy on the Tribunal last year, was endorsed by virtually every top Democratic official, including former U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers.

On the other hand, Musmanno ran almost singlehanded. His biggest backing came from labor, principally from CIO President Philip Murray. His nomination Tuesday assured Musmanno's election next November. Justice T. McKeen Chidsey who won the Republican nomination unopposed also will be automatically elected.

In Philadelphia, where the Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling scored a surprisingly easy victory over Walter P. Miller, paper box manufacturer, for the Republican mayoralty nomination, the victorious GOP organization has a new problem to face.

Republican leaders must rally anti-organization leaders to their support in the general election.

Miller replied "no comment" to a question whether he would back Dr. Poling in November. Whether other anti-organization leaders will support Poling is unknown.

greater wisdom. He evidently fears that they might think too highly of understanding and knowledge to their own spiritual harm. So he warns: "Knowledge puffs up but love builds up." Love can be exercised, Paul advises, towards those who cannot, in good conscience, eat of the idol-offered meat; do not urge him to act against his conscience, or encourage him by your eating, and so cause him to do wrong. To sum up the whole matter, as it were, Paul declares as his own conclusion: "I will never eat meat, lest I cause my

On local option liquor and beer balloting—an important item to the scores of towns holding such votes—22 communities swung aboard the dry bandwagon.

That means 12 taproom owners will lose their licenses. Nearly 200 licenses were at stake.

In contrast, the wets took over five dry communities.

The remainder of the 123 communities in the state voted to retain their present status in local referenda. The two biggest—Franklin in Venango county and Greenville in Mercer county—remained wet.

brother to fall."

The true social life is one actuated in all things by the thought, "That God's Spirit dwells in you." If one is conscious of that truth he will be divinely guided in all social relations of life; questions of behavior will be solved in that light. The food problem which troubled the conscience in Paul's day is not a great concern for us. But the drink problem is. The sorrow and the evil that come from excessive drinking of liquor are evident on all sides. In deciding what one's attitude and practice shall be in this matter the possible physical, moral and spiritual harm must be considered; that is, harm to oneself and harm to others. Paul's solution would solve the problem for any one, and on the high level of love and regard for one's brother. Christian social living is unselfish living in all our relationships.

Questions

1. What does Paul call the human body?

2. What consequently is required?

3. Where must any reformer begin?

4. What is the essence of social living?

5. How would Paul meet the drinking problem?

Answers

1. The temple of God.

2. Complete consecration.

3. With himself.

4. Love and regard for others.

5. By total abstinence.

ATTLEE ENTERS SEVENTH YEAR

London, July 27 (AP)—Clement R. Attlee Thursday entered his seventh year as Britain's prime minister—the longest one-man run in that office in the past four decades.

The political fortunes of the mild-mannered, 68-year-old labor party leader could well make the seventh year his last. World and domestic affairs certainly look like making it the hottest.

Iran and Egypt are giving Britain a bad time. The national economy is feeling the pinch of big-scale rearmament. Aneurin Bevan, the silver-tongued idol of Wales, is challenging Attlee's leadership of the party. Britain's international trade gap is widening. Like other leaders of the west, Attlee is wondering where the Communists will strike next.

Times Have Changed

This is vastly different from the optimistic days of 1945, when Attlee first swept into power. Germany was newly beaten then, Japan was collapsing and world peace was in sight after six dark years.

Labor took over the government with a crushing majority of 193 in the House of Commons. Attlee and his followers set off confidently on their plan for making Britain the socialist welfare state it has since become.

Now, the majority in Commons is down to four. Prices are slowly but steadily rising. The people are grumbling at the prospect of still more austerity to support the arms program and maintain vital, money-earning exports.

Winston Churchill's Conservatives can hardly wait for the next test at the polls.

MARS 50-YEAR RECORD

San Pedro, Calif., July 27 (AP)—It took 50 years of driving before 93-year-old William Ross Lloyd got his first traffic citation. But Wednesday he had to answer a charge of double parking and driving without his eye glasses, as required by his operator's license. Impressed by Lloyd's record, the judge suspended sentence and told him: "Go and sin no more." Lloyd remarked that he is a retired minister.

M. A. MUSMANNO EMERGES AS NEW POWER IN PARTY

Philadelphia, July 27 (AP)—Michael A. Musmanno, a modern version of the Horatio Alger hero, emerged today as one of the most powerful figures in the Democratic party in Pennsylvania after overcoming by sheer personal drive the party high command in the state.

The 55-year-old Musmanno won the party nomination for a seat on the state supreme court in Tuesday's primary despite the opposition of nearly all the prominent Democrats in Pennsylvania. Victory in the primary was tantamount to election.

Musmanno won by 80,000 votes over Justice Grover C. Laddner of Philadelphia, who had the backing of the Democratic organization.

Conducted Vigorous Campaign

For months prior to the primary, while statements by party leaders in Laddner's behalf as well as texts of Laddner's speeches were being mimeographed and shipped out to the newspapers, Musmanno was stumping up and down the state, telephoning reports of his speeches to newspaper offices and often coming in himself to describe what he had said in his addresses.

A strange practice in this political era . . . Strange, that is, if you overlook Musmanno's background.

He grew up in the coal regions of Allegheny county and went to college in Washington, D. C. Then he teamed up with Clarence Darrow, the renowned lawyer who fought the "evolution" case in Tennessee, to write a book: "Does Man Live Again?"

He also co-authored "Black Fury," a story about coal miners which served as a film vehicle for Paul Muni.

Musmanno wrote a biography of General Mark W. Clark after serving as Clark's naval aide in the Italian campaign of World War Two.

Before then, Musmanno had been elected a judge in Allegheny county.

Countians Will See Morman Pageant

The 10th annual performance of the famed Mormon pageant, "America's Witness for Christ," will be performed August 9, 10 and 11 at Hill Cumorah, Palmyra, N. Y. The production, which attracted an estimated 77,000 from throughout the United States and Canada last year, has been revised and re-costumed for this year's presentation.

Dramatized at night, the action takes place upon four brilliantly lighted stages which have been erected upon the pine-covered hill where Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon church, is said to have received gold plates inscribed in Egyptian, from which he translated the Book of Mormon in 1827. The drama depicts the history of the trials and religious experiences of two nations, known as Nephites and Lamanites, who inhabited the American continent from 600 B.C. to 421 A.D.

Members of the church in Adams county will witness the pageant.

He was honored by being chosen judge at the war crimes trial at Nuernberg, Germany, after the war.

Returning to the bench in Pittsburgh, Musmanno again attracted national attention in his unrelenting attack on Communists. He defended, with vigor, his argument that Communists should be sent to jail in the U. S.

He tried to buck the Democratic organization in 1950 when he sought the party nomination for governor, but he yielded to Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia and accepted the nomination for lieutenant governor on a ticket headed by Dilworth.

The Democrats lost that election. When it came time to pick the party supreme court nominee, Musmanno again stepped to the fore, but the party leaders selected Laddner.

Undaunted, Musmanno took up the fight.

SAYS UN STAND IN KOREA MAY HEAD OFF WAR

Washington, July 27 (AP)—President Truman has expressed belief that the "resolute" United Nations stand against aggression in Korea may have headed off a world war.

Declaring that the U.N., by its reaction to the Communist attack on South Korea, "made clear that an aggressor will not be allowed to isolate and destroy his victims one by one," Mr. Truman added:

"There is much to indicate that the resolute resistance of U.N. troops has given pause to those aggressive forces which cold-bloodedly brought tragedy to Korea."

"Record Of Solidarity"

These views were contained in a letter in which the President submitted to Congress a report on United Nations participation in the U.N. during 1950.

Mr. Truman referred to the 450-page report as "a record of decision and action in the face of danger" and "for the most part a record of solidarity among U.N. members against aggression."

Declaring that "the aggressors and their supporters undoubtedly believed" the U.N. would not rally to the defense of South Korea, Mr. Truman said: "It is probable that one of the purposes of the attack was to break down—through such a failure—any possibility of effective U.N. action against aggression in the future." He added: "The U.N. elected to act now rather than to drift passively once more down the fatal trail of failure to oppose aggression which leads finally to total war. Thousands of men have therefore sacrificed their lives in Korea to the end that millions may not lose their lives in a world war."

Old Seats Blamed For Pupil Troubles; Brought Bad Posture

Palo Alto, Calif., July 27 (AP)—Remember those old folding classroom seats you sat in so many years ago? They may be one reason you're no smarter than you are today.

Dr. Darell Harmon, who has made a study of posture as it affects learning, says you probably put two-thirds of your energy into the effort to sit up straight. That left little for studies and play.

Today's children are getting swivel chairs to avoid spine curvatures and stomach aches. Dr. Harmon is displaying new models at Stanford university's school planning laboratory this week. He says they improve posture, digestion and the process of education itself. He added:

In experiments at Austin, Texas, children were placed in the usual school seats. While they slouched,

X-rays were made showing curving spines and muscular tensions—even internal gas pockets. When they tried to sit up straight the tensions were increased.

They had to boost their energy with candy. (Is that bad?)

The new type seats eliminated the extra-energy needs, Harmon said, and increased the speed of learning 60 per cent.

There are more than 1,500 species of firefly.
